Attendance Cut Down

The attendance to-day was very poor for Saturday. Many journeyed to the track to see the excitement. Many of the regulars stayed in town to bet with the handbooks. There was little betting on the first race. The betting phase of the game was shut down so effectively it was next to impossible even to learn the prices quoted on the

The crowd gathered in the ring to get the jockeys for the second race, but the police kept everybody moving. Racing to Continue.

Mr. Elder seemed to attach much importance to a Supreme Court decision several years ago, in which it had been held that the police had a right to enter and clear disorderly establishments. Evidently he believes that this decision could be so interpreted as to bring betting rings under the definition of disorderly establishments.

Enthuse Over Handfenp Finish. Real, old-time enthusiasm was shown 13.—One of the finest racing cards of the season was run off here this afternoon in the presence of a crowd that was less by half than the average midweek-day attendance. There was little or no betting on the events except by a comparative few. Even the posting of prices was prohibited.

Madden Stable Runs One-Two.

John E. Madden again showed in the Tremont that he has the best of the two-year-olds this season. His Fayette and Sir Martin ran one-two. Last week he ran one-two in the Great American, and Sir Martin won then, and to-day it was Fayette which took down first money. Fayette ran the "about six furlongs" in 1.09 3-5, which is a new record for the stake since it has been run over this distance. He won easily. Strike-Out, the gelding from the Duryea stables, showing a wonderful burst of early speed, showed the right way into the stretch. Fayette was second all the way within five lengths, and Bobbin laid third.

It was first seen in the freight vards began operations as a baby whirblast three feet in diameter and fifty feet high. From reliable sources it is reported that in the beginning it ripped spikes out of the tracks in the freight yards and tore dinner pails from the reluctant grasp of switchmen and freight handlers. This Hoboken whirlwind steered no course and had no certain direction. It simply reeled hither and yon, dancing a mad saraband and snatching up what it could, among other things a small boy named Paul Rudenstein, of No. 31-6. Ferry street. He was whisked from his feet and twisted fifteen feet in the air, but landed safely on the awning of a delicatessen shop.
